

HUMAN ECOLOGY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION 2009 HELEN BULL VANDERVORT ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

LYNN EDELSTEIN HEYMONT '73

AWARDS:

In recognition of her achievements, Lynn was honored as one of forty female executives selected by the Los Angeles Business Journal for its "Women Making a Difference Award", celebrating L.A.'s most successful business women.

AT CORNELL:

Lynn's dedication to Cornell is evidenced by her many years of service to the College of Human Ecology and to the University. She has been a Cornell Ambassador for nearly 30 years. She is a member of the Cornell Club of Los Angeles and a lifetime member of the Human Ecology Alumni Association. Lynn serves on the President's Council of Cornell Women and was appointed to the Human Ecology Dean's Advisory Council. She received a bachelor's degree from Human Ecology in 1973.

A veteran human resources executive in the media industry, Lynn has dedicated her life to effecting change in the entertainment community by promoting job opportunities for minority students and campaigning for public service announcements to highlight critical social issues.

AT WORK:

Lynn has served as a human capital leader in the entertainment industry for nearly 30 years, most recently as Vice President, Human Resources – West Coast for CBS. Prior to joining CBS, she was Vice President, Human Resources at Sony Pictures Entertainment.

PUBLIC SERVICE:

Lynn serves on the Board of Directors for the Emma L. Bowen Foundation for Minority Interests in Media, which was established to help increase access to job opportunities for minority students through long term mentoring commitments by employers within the media industry. Lynn's contributions as a member of the Operating Board of Directors for the Entertainment Industry Foundation allowed her to champion initiatives in AIDS awareness, smoking cessation and cancer research. She is also a member of the Human Resources Round Table at UCLA and serves on the Dean's Advisory Board of UCLA Extension.

Lynn pictured with her son Larry, Arts & Sciences '11 (left) and husband Bruce (right).