The Cube

- Freshman housing for Massey students
- Most international students live in The Cube
- Only a few minutes from campus
- 5-10 minutes from Cuba Street and Courtney Place
Wellington, NZ

- Easy to walk to places like the harbor, Mt. Victoria, and Sunday markets.
- Countless art, music, and sporting events
- Excellent coffee and beer
- Snow is very rare
198.214 Product Design
One of two projects

I. Used AfterEffects to create a short 60 second animation based on a nursery rhyme.

II. Used Maya to create an environment that could belong in a movie. Then rendered a video to display the space.
Travelling Outside Wellington

Re:START mall created from shipping containers in Christchurch after the earthquake in 2011
Adventuring…

Just some trail around the Pancake Rocks in Punakaiki

Kawarau Bridge, the first commercial bungy jump
On the Ice

The international students went to Mt. Ruapehu, a volcanic mountain on the north island, over a weekend to ski and snowboard.

Ice formation on Fox Glacier. You need to get a guided tour to go on the glacier itself.
Across the Beach

The first stop on my trip at the end of the semester, we hiked through forests and onto beaches for two days at the Abel Tasman, one of the nine Great Walks.

Stayed with other international students at New Plymouth in one of their flatmate’s house during the two week mid-semester break.
Over the Mountains

Trekked through the Routeburn track, another Great Walk, over three days staying in huts. The snow above the trails were falling down so we needed to be taken across a section on a helicopter.
Into the Rainbows

After hiking the Routeburn track, we stayed a night at Milford Sound.
It was a completely clear day that day, a rare occurrence at Milford.
During the cruise, we stood on the bow of the ship and the captain slowly approached this waterfall.
Wildlife

Seals are pretty common in New Zealand and can even be found around Wellington.

Keep an eye on your things around the Kea.