ADVISING | CALL TO SERVE RESOURCES

We’ve put together a list of some of the most used resources to help you promote federal service.

INSPIRE

Putting a face on government is the best way to break misperceptions. Show your campus that federal careers allow employees to solve the nation’s biggest challenges every day.

Annenberg Speakers Bureau

Dynamic federal employees offer first-hand insight into government service. Apply to bring a Speakers Bureau member to your campus at calltoserve.org.

Making the Difference DVD

These short videos highlight the great work young people are doing in government. Show it at campus events! youtube.com/GovernmentHeroes

Service to America Medals (Sammies)

Tell the true stories of government’s unsung heroes. Two-minute videos of award winners can be downloaded and played at events from youtube.com/GovernmentHeroes.

EDUCATE

It’s not enough to just inspire your students; you must also educate faculty, staff and students about the process of finding and applying for federal opportunities. Visit calltoserve.org for more information.

Call to Serve Toolkit

This toolkit helps you engage your campus community, educate and advise students, and build agency relationships. It includes:

- Printable handouts on topics such as student programs and 17 guides by major; and
- Ready-made Find and Apply student presentations.

THE PARTNERSHIP’S WEB SITES

- www.calltoserve.org
  The Web site for advisors includes free resources and information about Call to Serve programs
- www.makingthedifference.org
  A student-centered Web site with a wealth of information on opportunities in the federal government

OTHER USEFUL WEB SITES

- www.feb.gov
  Work with your regional Federal Executive Board to build local federal agency relationships
- www.USAjobs.gov
  Search for jobs, create a federal resume and receive auto-job alerts.
- www.usa.gov
  Search an A-Z listing of federal agencies
- www.fedscope.opm.gov
  A database of federal employment used to find out which agencies and federal jobs exist in your state

For more information, visit calltoserve.org
Federal Advisor Trainings and Webinar Workshops

The Partnership conducts trainings and webinars professional development around advising students, building a campaign to promote federal service and strengthening agency relationships. Learn more at calltoserve.org/events.

Monthly Call to Serve eNews

Sign up for the monthly Call to Serve eNewsletter at calltoserve.org to receive the latest resources and news specifically compiled for agency and school professionals.

Best Places to Work in the Federal Government

Use these rankings, based on the job satisfaction of government employees, to target your outreach to the best agencies to work for in federal government. Visit bestplacestowork.org.

TRANSFORM

Now that you’ve inspired and educated students and staff about federal service, it’s time to get students into government positions and build a sustainable movement on your campus.

Federal Service Student Ambassadors

Students with federal internship experience are often underutilized as champions of public service. The Partnership’s Student Ambassadors program enables former federal interns to spread the word about public service on their college campuses. Applications open each spring. Contact us if your campus would like to sponsor an ambassador and learn more at makingthedifference.org.

Federal Career Day (FCD) Toolkit

The FCD toolkit walks you through the key steps to hosting a successful career fair. It provides information on how to attract agencies to your campus and fully utilize them once they are there.

Federal Agency and School Directory

This directory is a helpful index of Call to Serve agency and schools contacts to start your relationship building efforts and build allies with schools in your region. Download it from Partnership Connect.

Partnership Connect

A social networking Web site for Call to Serve agency and school members to share resources, use discussion boards and post events on the Call to Serve calendar. Request a password at calltoserve@ourpublicservice.org and sign in at www.calltoserve.org.