Statement on Dietetic Internship Competition:
Please be aware that the competition for internship openings has increased in recent years. During the April 2010 match, approximately 50% of applicants did not get internships. This trend is expected to continue. Cornell’s placement rate for DPD graduates in 2010 and 2011 was 93% and 94% respectively. While completion of DPD requirements does not guarantee placement in an internship, DPD staff are available to discuss your career plans, internship choices, your qualifications and review your application.
