

Fiber Science & Apparel Design Honors Program

Application Form

The FSAD Honors Program is for undergraduate students who are undertaking basic or applied research leading to a thesis under the supervision of a faculty member in the Department of Fiber Science & Apparel Design.

An Honors Thesis may take many forms, including traditional, written scholarship, studio work, and exhibition.

Registration must take place by the beginning of the first semester of your junior year.

1) Date _____ 2) Name _____

3) E-mail _____ 4) Option _____

Anticipated date for completion of thesis _____

Anticipated date of graduation _____

Committee Members (please PRINT names):

Faculty Honors Program Director (DUS) _____

FSAD Academic Mentor _____

Other (optional) _____

Please describe the topic and general questions for your research. A specific research question is not expected at this time.

Indication of Faculty Support

By signing below, faculty indicate their willingness to serve on the student's honors research committee.

Faculty Honors Program Director (DUS) _____ Date _____
Signature

FSAD Academic Mentor _____ Date _____
Signature

Additional Mentor (optional) _____ Date _____
Signature

